

THE WORLD IS BEYOND THE HEADLINES.

Anyone can spread news

A study made by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology claims, that false truths are 70 percent more likely to spread on Twitter than facts.

Even if it's new, doesn't make it true
– always check your source.

